

ACCESS GROUNDBREAKING SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH FROM THE FIRST HALF OF THE TWENTIETH CENTURY

CENTURY OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

COMING THIS YEAR!

TRACK PAST DEVELOPMENTS... PINPOINT KEY TURNING POINTS... DETERMINE FUTURE DIRECTIONS

CENTURY OF SOCIAL SCIENCES HELPS USERS:

- Track research trends, top authors, institutions, and journals, in the social sciences throughout time
- Prove the impact of their research findings by citing respected works from the past
- Identify how past ideas became the basis for today's findings
- Produce high quality papers that reflect how past work forms the context for today's knowledge
- Learn how and when problems and ideas were first encountered and dealt with

Learn more at: go.thomsonreuters.com/centuryofsocialsciences/

WHAT YOU'LL FIND:

- Coverage of over 300 journals in the social sciences back to 1900
- A collection of some of the oldest, and most prestigious journals in their respective fields
- Extensive coverage of high impact psychology journals, including 5 titles associated with Sigmund Freud
- Full bibliographic and cited reference data for journals in disciplines such as: communication, education, geography, history & philosophy of the social sciences, law, political science, public health, social issues & sociology
- Various national perspectives in the fields of anthropology and geography
- The economics collection includes the Journal of Political Economy, one of the oldest and most prestigious journals in its field
- Full integration with ISI Web of Knowledge

